UNDERWRITING MANU L

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

UNDERWRITING AND VALUATION PROCEDURE
OF THE NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

With revisions to June 30, 1935

WASHINGTON, D.C.
Adequacy of Transportation

Section 214: The need for a comprehensive transportation system to support the growth and development of the neighborhood is recognized. The transportation system should be integrated with other development plans and policies. The transportation network should provide access to employment centers, schools, and other essential services. The transportation network should also accommodate the needs of pedestrians and cyclists. The transportation system should be designed to minimize congestion and pollution.