Talking Points & Messaging Guide

As we commemorate 250 years of American greatness, your organization plays a key role in helping communities across the country celebrate, reflect, and take bold steps toward the future.

This guide provides flexible, aligned messaging you can use to shape your remarks, signage, social media, and event materials, while keeping the spotlight on your unique mission.

CORE THEME TO ELEVATE:

President Trump's Freedom250 Vision

- President Trump is honoring our nation's story by launching the National Garden of American Heroes, featuring statues of 250 iconic Americans.
- The Great American State Fair is traveling the country, culminating in a massive celebration on the National Mall on July 4, 2026.
- Through executive orders, President Trump has taken bold action to:
  - Protect American monuments and memorials from vandalism
  - Restore truth and sanity to the way American history is taught
- These efforts are uniting Americans across the country in a shared commitment to faith, freedom, and national pride.

MESSAGE BY CATEGORY

Faith-Based Messaging

- "Our rights come not from government, but from God, and the government's job is to protect them."
- "As we celebrate America at 250, we don't just thank God for the past, we pray for courage to shape the future."
- "We honor leaders who defend life, protect truth, and uphold the God-given freedoms that made this country great."

Issue-Based Messaging

- "The Constitution begins with 'We the People,' not we the politicians, we the bureaucrats, or we the elites."
- "President Trump and America First leaders are restoring election integrity and protecting the voice of every legal citizen."
- "At 250, America's promise still stands: this system belongs to the people. We finally have leadership ready to deliver on that promise."

Geographic Messaging (Customizable by State or Region)

For Pennsylvania:

“America was born here. From Independence Hall to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania has shaped the soul of our country, and we’re not done yet.”

For Your State or Region:

“In [State], we’ve always stood strong for faith, freedom, and family. At 250, we’re still leading that charge, and showing the rest of the country what American pride looks like.”

EVENT ENGAGEMENT IDEAS (Use Onsite or Online)

“What Does America Mean to You?”

Invite attendees to write or record their answer on camera or notecards. Use this for follow-up social content.

Flag Tribute & Moment of Honor:

Celebrate “250 Years of Service” by recognizing local veterans, law enforcement, first responders, and military families.

Acts of Service

Incorporate charitable service, collect food, donate blood, write thank-you notes to troops, to tie your mission to servant leadership.

CUSTOMIZATION TIPS FOR YOUR ORG

If your organization focuses on:

- Education → Emphasize restoring truth to classrooms and protecting parental rights.
- Family/Pro-Life → Highlight the Declaration’s promise of life, liberty, and the Creator as the source of our rights.
- Election Integrity → Focus on “We the People” and preserving the voice of the citizen.
- Security → Tie in national heroes, service, and sovereignty.
- Economic Policy → Relate back to the American Dream and the freedom to build, grow, and succeed.

Your event is unique, but it’s also part of a national movement to celebrate America and set the tone for our next 250 years. Use both Freedom250 branding and your organization’s voice to tell that story. When we combine patriotism with purpose, we continue to make history.

Freedom250 Event Signage & Branding Guidance

As we celebrate 250 years of America, your organization plays a vital role in bringing this historic milestone to life. Unified branding will improve your impact and connect your efforts to the national Freedom 250 movement.

Purpose of Dual Branding

Your event should reflect the unique voice and mission of your organization while making it unmistakably clear that it is part of the broader Freedom 250 celebration. This dual-branding approach ensures:

- Visibility & credibility as part of a national movement
- Local authenticity that reflects your community and mission
- Strategic alignment with the larger America First celebration of history, freedom, and the future

Signage Guidance

Freedom250 branding should include:

- Official Freedom250 logo
- Phrases: “In partnership with Freedom250” or “An Freedom250 event”
- Optional tagline: “Celebrating 250 Years of [Your Org’s Policy/Issue Area]”

Co-Branding Guidance

Your event materials should also clearly reflect your organization’s identity:

- Your logo (should be legible and proportionate to Freedom250 branding)
- Tagline or mission statement
- Color palette or graphic elements consistent with your existing brand

Rule of Thumb: Both Freedom250 and your organization’s logos should appear on all signage, but neither should overpower the other. These events should be uniquely yours, and unmistakably Freedom250.

Visual Style Tips

- Use bold, patriotic colors (red, navy, white, gold accents)
- Incorporate flags, stars, historical American symbols
- Choose clear, readable fonts
- Photos should highlight community action, celebration, and Americana

unarchives and america250 The National Archives hosted the kick-off for the @america250 State and Territory Convención in Washington, DC. On Monday, July 28, representatives from 55 states and territories gathered right next to America's Founding Documents to meet, plan and dine together.

Jim Byron, Senior Advisor to the Acting Archivist, Secretary of the Commonwealth, and Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, spoke on the importance of the Declaration of Independence, and said that the signers of the Declaration of Independence "knew that what they were doing was right. Succeeding generations of their countrymen have proven that the risk these 56 signers took was, indeed, worth it. Our story is, at its core, a story of regular Americans who risked everything to defend their lives and those of their families. The American Story is a story to be celebrated, and it is our job to celebrate it."

The countdown to July 4, 2026 is officially on!

Great American Rodeo

GREAT American RODEO

Dear Rodeo Leaders,

As we approach the 250th anniversary of our nation's founding on July 4, 2026, we have a once-in-a-generation opportunity to unite every American in honoring our shared history. Rodeos are uniquely positioned to amplify this moment. They represent the backbone of rural America, where agriculture, community, and the cowboy spirit converge.

Following the success of the Great American State Fair initiative, launched under Executive Order 14189, over 38 states have already joined the celebration. From digital campaigns to flag ceremonies and concert tie-ins, the creativity and patriotism on display have been inspiring.

Now we are excited to extend this celebration to another cornerstone of American heritage: the rodeo. We are inviting rodeos across the country to participate in Freedom 250 by incorporating the branding and spirit of the initiative into events you already have planned. Whether it is a banner at the gate, a patriotic concert, or a social media post, every contribution counts. We understand this is a late-stage request and appreciate the complexity of your planning. This is not a call to create new programming. It is an opportunity to elevate what you already do best.

We kindly ask for your commitment to participate by November 30th. Once you confirm, we will send branding assets, brand guidance, and any contacts you may need. Our team is also happy to brainstorm with you or help tailor ideas to your event.

To share your plans or confirm participation, please contact Carlee Tousman at Carlee.Tousman@usda.gov or 771-241-5753.

Thank you for your leadership and partnership in making Freedom 250 a truly historic celebration.

Warm regards,
Brooke L. Rollins
Secretary of Agriculture

Freedom 250 Rodeo Toolkit

How to Participate

We're inviting rodeos across the country to be part of a once-in-a-lifetime celebration: Freedom 250. This milestone is about honoring the spirit of our nation, and there's no better place to showcase that pride than in the heart of a rodeo arena.

We know this is a late request, and we deeply respect the time, energy, and planning that goes into your events. That's why we're not asking you to create anything new—we're simply asking you to do what you already do best, with a patriotic twist. Whether it's a banner at the gate, a shoutout from the announcer stand, or a themed funnel cake at the concession stand, every gesture counts.

No idea is too small. Every rodeo that participates (no matter how modestly) will be recognized as part of this historic national celebration. So we encourage you to do whatever you can. Your community, your traditions, and your pride in America are exactly what this moment is meant to honor.

Commitments are requested by November 30th. To confirm your participation or share your plans, please contact Carlee Tousman at Carlee.Tousman@usda.gov or 771-241-5753.

Ways to Integrate Freedom 250 into Existing Programming

These ideas are designed to fit seamlessly into your current rodeo schedule:
